

MORRIS K. UDALL FOUNDATION
2010 UNDERGRADUATE SCHOLARSHIP
STUDENT NOMINATION MATERIALS

The Morris K. Udall Scholarship and Excellence in National Environmental Policy Foundation honors Congressman Morris King Udall's legacy of public service by awarding $5,000 merit-based scholarships to outstanding college students who intend to pursue careers related to the environment, or who intend to pursue careers in Native American health care or tribal public policy and are Native American or Alaska Native.

In 2010, the Foundation expects to award 80 scholarships and 50 honorable mentions on the basis of merit to sophomore and junior level college students. Scholarships are offered in any of three categories:

To students who have demonstrated commitment to careers related to the environment; or

To Native American and Alaska Native students who have demonstrated commitment to careers related to tribal public policy; or

To Native American and Alaska Native students who have demonstrated commitment to careers related to Native American health care.

Who Are Udall Scholars

Because contributions to the environment, tribal public policy and Native American health care can be made in many different ways, Udall Scholars represent a broad range of academic majors and career interests. Recent Udall Scholars have majored in environmental sciences and policy studies, agriculture, American Indian studies, political science, natural resource management, tribal public policy, sociology, anthropology, history, English, theater, landscape architecture, and public health, to name just a few areas.

Udall Scholars are now working as environmental consultants for industry, not-for-profit entities, and government; as environmental and land use lawyers, and in tribal resource management; with cities as environmental managers and urban planners; as legislative assistants, lobbyists and legal counsel for tribal communities and environmental organizations; as environmental educators; in public health and environmental justice fields; and in many other careers and professions.

Conditions of Eligibility

Each nominee must:

Be committed to a career related to the environment, OR committed to a career in tribal public policy OR Native American health care.

- Only Native Americans and Alaska Natives are eligible to apply in tribal public policy or Native American health care.*
- Native American students studying tribal public policy or native health do not need to demonstrate commitment to the environment.
- Likewise, students pursuing environmentally related careers do not need to be Native American, nor do they need to demonstrate commitment to tribal public policy or Native health.

Be a matriculated sophomore or junior-level student at a two-year or four-year accredited institution of higher education, pursuing a bachelor's or associate's degree during the 2009-2010 academic year.

- "Sophomore" is defined as a student who has completed at least one year of full-time undergraduate study and intends at least two more years of full-time undergraduate study beginning in fall 2010.
- "Junior" is defined as a student who intends at least one more year of full-time undergraduate study beginning in fall 2010.
- Students may apply for funding in both their sophomore and junior years; 3rd time applicants, however, will not be eligible.

Meet the following requirements:

- Have a college grade-point average of at least a "B" or the equivalent;
- Be pursuing full-time study during the 2010-2011 academic year;
- Be a U.S. citizen, U.S. national, or U.S. permanent resident.

* For the purposes of the Scholarship Program, a Native American or Alaska Native is any individual who is:

- A member of an Indian tribe or band, as membership is defined by the tribe or band, including any tribe or band terminated since 1940 and any tribe recognized by the state in which the tribe or band resides;
- A descendant in first or second degree of a member of an Indian tribe or band, as membership is defined by the tribe or band, who can demonstrate affiliation with the tribal community according to criteria set by the Foundation;
- Considered by the Secretary of the Interior to be an Indian for any purpose;
- An Eskimo, Aleut, or other Alaska Native;
- A permanent U.S. resident who is a member of the First Nations of Canada.

Scholarship Benefits

- Up to $5,000 for tuition, room and board, or other educational expenses;
- Four-day Udall Scholar Orientation in Tucson, Arizona to meet with other Scholars, elected officials, environmental and tribal leaders. All 2010 Scholars are required to attend this event. It will be held August 4–8, 2010, in Tucson, Arizona. Travel from the Scholar's home, lodging, and meals will be provided by the Foundation;
- Access to a network of environmental, Native American health and tribal policy professionals through the Udall Alumni listserv.

Scholarship Conditions

Udall Scholarships may be used for tuition, fees, books, room and board, or other specifically approved expenses. Payments may supplement, but not duplicate, benefits from other foundations, institutions, or organizations. Combined benefits from all sources may not exceed the costs of tuition, fees, books, and room and board as prescribed by the institution.

To receive payments, a Udall Scholar must submit:

- An acceptance of the scholarship;
- An agreement to attend the Scholar Orientation in Tucson, Arizona, August 4–8, 2010;
- A statement of eligible expenses, certified by a financial officer of the college or university;
- A completed Direct Deposit/EFT Enrollment form.

The Foundation may withhold or terminate a scholarship due to unsatisfactory academic performance, withdrawal from full-time academic enrollment during the scholarship year, or failure to comply with any of the above conditions.

Nomination Procedures

The Institution of Higher Education

Accredited two-year and four-year institutions in the United States may nominate up to six students in any or all categories for the 2010 awards.

The Udall Faculty Representative

The president of each participating institution appoints a Udall Faculty Representative who serves as a liaison between the Foundation and the institution, oversees the selection of the institution's nominees, helps nominees prepare for the competition, and submits the nomination materials to the Foundation by the specified deadline.

The Nomination Materials

The following items are required for each nominee:

- A completed Institution Nomination Form from the Udall Faculty Representative;
- A completed, signed Udall Scholarship Application;
- An 800-word essay;
- A current official college transcript and transcripts for other colleges attended;
- Three letters of recommendation.

The nomination and application information must be submitted on forms from the Foundation's website, or on photocopies of these forms. Recreated forms and attachments of additional information will not be accepted.

The application and essay must be typed or word-processed; handwritten applications will not be accepted.

Nomination Deadline

The complete nomination package

must be received by March 2, 2010, at the Scholarship Program, Morris K. Udall Foundation, 130 South Scott Avenue, Tucson, AZ 85701. (Institutional deadlines may be up to 6 months earlier; be sure to contact your faculty representative.)

Selection Procedures

All complete and eligible nominations are reviewed by an independent selection committee. Scholars are selected on the basis of:

1. Demonstrated commitment to:

- environmental or natural resource issues; or
- tribal public policy*; or
- Native American health care*.

Commitment is demonstrated through substantial contributions to and participation in one or more of the following: campus activities, research, tribal involvement, community or public service.

2. Course of study and proposed career likely to lead to position where nominee can make significant contributions to the shaping of either environmental, or tribal public policy, or Native American health care issues, whether through scientific advances, public or political service, or community action;

3. Leadership, character, desire to make a difference, general well-roundedness.

* Nominees in the categories of tribal public policy and Native American health care must be Native American or Alaska Native.

Preparation of Materials

Work closely with your Udall Faculty Representative.

Visit www.udall.gov for additional information and guidance, including Frequently Asked Questions, information about Morris K. Udall, and links to the Udall papers at the University of Arizona.

Use the short essay questions to reveal your values, interests, and motivation to pursue a career related to the environment, or tribal public policy, or health care.

Briefly identify and explain any activities or honors that readers are unlikely to understand.

Alert the Foundation to any unusual circumstances or hardship that may have affected your academic performance or limited your activities.

Research Congressman Udall's life and legacy. For the essay, choose a speech or piece of legislation that clearly relates to your interests and career goals.

Limit your answers to the space provided on the application. Do not recreate the application, alter the format, or attach additional pages. Altered or recreated applications and attachments will be deemed ineligible and will not be evaluated by the selection committee.

Be sure that your application is easy to read and free of grammatical and typographical errors. Handwritten applications will not be accepted.

Submit all necessary materials (see nomination materials checklist) to your faculty representative by the campus deadline. The Foundation must receive the complete application by March 2, 2010. Your campus will probably have an earlier deadline.

PLEASE SPECIFY:

The above information is requested on a voluntary basis and will be used only for statistical purposes. If you choose not to supply the information, this will have no effect upon your application for a scholarship. This form, if submitted, will be removed from your application and will not be seen by the Foundation's independent review committee at any of its deliberations.

Morris King Udall

Morris King Udall was elected to the U.S. House of Representatives in 1961. He served as chairman of what is now the Committee on Resources for over ten years. As well as serving in the House of Representatives for three decades, Udall ran unsuccessfully for the Democratic presidential nomination in 1976.

Although Udall lost his right eye in an accident at age seven, he became co-captain of his high school basketball team, quarterback for the football team, trumpet player in the school band, student body president and valedictorian. After earning a law degree at the University of Arizona, he obtained an airplane pilot license, played professional basketball for the Denver Nuggets and, after scoring highest on the state bar exam, was admitted to the Arizona Bar and began practicing law with his brother Stewart.

Udall was one of the most creative and productive legislators of the century. He championed the rights of Native Americans and Alaska Natives and used his leadership in Congress to strengthen tribal self-governance. His love of the environment resulted in numerous pieces of legislation moving through Congress. Chief among his accomplishments was the Alaska Lands Act of 1980, which doubled the size of the national park system, and tripled the size of the national wilderness system. He also authored important legislation on campaign reform and congressional ethics.

Udall's sense of humor, civility and a strong bipartisan spirit led him to distinguish between political opponents and enemies. One of his closest longtime friends was the rock of Republican conservatism, Arizona Senator Barry Goldwater.

Significant legislation includes:

The Central Arizona Project
Postal Reform Act
Bill to Reform Congressional Franking Privileges
Strip Mining Reclamation Act
Indian Child Welfare Act
Civil Service Reforms
Archaeological Research Protection Act
Southern Arizona Water Rights Settlement Act
Nuclear Waste Management Policy Act
Arizona Wilderness Act
Amendment to the Price-Anderson Provision of the Atomic Energy Act
Indian Gaming Act
Arizona Desert Wilderness Act
Tongass Timber Reform Act
